| What aspects of your cultural heritage are you most proud of or interested in?

I don't know whether it's the impact from movies or bought up by this Indian culture!... I love the married people using red Sindhu, Mangal (wearing Thali), Metti (toe ring) even by guys... and lot... those simple things which was done by their loved one shows special gestures... finally it's depends on once interest doing those everything or to be followed... but personally I like... Even being as the Christian girl... still people following, giving importance to those and I'm proud on it...

Most of the time it's even compulsory to wear those things... according to me it's shouldn't be forced things to be done wearing when they really respect their partner, value that relationship...and again those symbolises wearing can't measure the value of relationship but still showing people among us to whom they belongs to they would help by this... not only women even men can wear metti (some are wearing)... even Mangal (thali) why guys should not wear it?
